

2020 “I VOTED” STICKER CONTEST

MEET THE JUDGES

Catie McCorry-Andalis

The University of Texas at El Paso

As the Associate Vice President and Dean of Students, Dr. Catie McCorry-Andalis is responsible for several significant student engagement efforts at The University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP) including student life activities, leadership development, intramurals and study abroad programs. Recognizing the benefits of student engagement in high-impact activities for all students, Dr. Catie McCorry-Andalis has focused over the years on expanding student support and student engagement opportunities for first generation college students and supporting programs and services that enable students of UTEP to grow professionally and be active members of our community.

Participating in civic engagement activities, I believe, enables us to become more knowledgeable and informed about our community and the impact we can have on society. I am excited to serve as a judge for this contest not only because I myself have had the opportunity to learn more about the El Paso Elections Department but our young people have been given an opportunity to actively engage in the political process, something I value immensely.
