New 2022 “I Voted” Sticker Design Contest Winner to be Announced Next Week

The winning design for the El Paso County 2022 “I Voted” sticker contest will be announced next Wednesday, November 10th. “We’ve been incredibly encouraged with the continued interest the community has shown in this contest,” said Lisa Wise, El Paso County Elections Administrator. “Expanding our outreach to middle school students has been a goal we set for our department almost three years ago and we are thrilled to be able to highlight their talents in our “I Voted” sticker contest for the 2022 election cycle,” Wise added.

The El Paso County Elections Department received over 68 submissions for the second El Paso County “I Voted” sticker design contest. The sticker will be distributed to voters at all Early Voting and Election Day Vote Centers during the 2022 elections. The judges will review each submission and select a first, second and third place design. Judging will be based on the artistic skill, theme, and uniqueness of the design. Three outstanding members of the community have agreed to participate as judges:

Christin Apodaca, Illustrator and Muralist

Christin wanted to be a part of this panel because art and art making is such a great catalyst for awareness. Being an artist, she is already drawn to all things visual but paired with action, like voting, has a greater impact for our community. Apodaca also admires young artists and supports the work they’re creating.

Chelsie Evaldi, Owner of Chuco Relic

Chelsie accepted her participation as a judge for this contest because she loves to see artists take an idea and make it their own.

Miriam Garcia, Public Art Program Supervisor for the City of El Paso

It is Ms. Garcia’s sincere goal to cultivate and elevate El Paso artists and art in order for them to be recognized at a national and global level.
